

Vesper Propers, June 2, 2013
Second Sunday after Pentecost

Our venerable father Nicephorus the confessor, at the Bosphorus in Propontis. He was bishop of Constantinople and a most fierce champion of the tradition of the Fathers. For the cult of holy icons, he steadfastly opposed himself to the iconoclastic emperor Leo the Armenian. Leo then forced him from his see and sent him for a long time to a monastery, from which he departed to God with a calm spirit. (771)

O Ni-ce-pho-rus, hier - arch of God, in you we re - cognize a true pil - lar of the Faith, a ram-part of doc-trine, a defen-der of pi - e - ty, a dwel-ling of pu - rity, a precious flask filled with the myrrh of the Spi - rit, a re-pos-i - to - ry of tea - chings. up - on whom rests the Church of Christ!

Cantor: Praise the Lord all you nations; Psalm 116
(on 2) acclaim him all you peoples.

②

In you we ce - le - brate a suc - ces - sor of the A - pos - tles, a companion of the mar - tyrs a faith - ful imitator of the a - sce - tics, an im - age of the great ecumenical teachers bear - ing their like - ness, a bles - sed hier - arch initiated in - to the mys - te - ry of Christ, a di - vine ri - ver of heal - ing who drowns the malevolence of the im - pi - ous in your streams.

Cantor: Strong is the love of the Lord for us;
(on I) he is faithful forever.
