Nineteenth Sunday after Pentecost

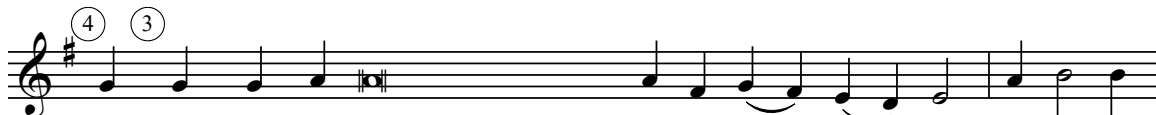

Our venerable father Cyriacus the anchorite. Born in Corinth of a Christian family, he left to go to Jerusalem and entered the monastery. He learned at the feet of saints such as Euthymius and Gerasimos. He was famous for his silence, his asceticism, and his zeal for the Orthodox faith. (557)

Stichera of our venerable father Cyriacus - Tone 8 samohlasen

Mas - tering your bod - ily pas - sions by the bri - dle of tem - per - ance, O won - der - work - ing father Cy - ri - a - cus, you put on the gar - ment of self - con - trol.

You stripped bare the total perversity of the one who had once stripped our first par - ents; and now you dwell in the eternal joys of pa - ra - dise. In - ter - cede for the sal - va - tion of our souls.

Cantor: Because with the Lord there is mercy and fullness of redemption, (on 3) Israel indeed he will redeem from all its iniquity.
All repeat: "Mastering your bodily passions by the bridle of temperance..."

Cantor: Praise the Lord all you nations; Psalm 116
(on 2) acclaim him all you peoples.

Tak-ing up your Cross, you followed Christ with-out look-ing back. Re-noun-cing the pleasures of this life, O Cy-ri - a - cus, and mor-ti - fying your bodily passions, O vena-ble fa - ther, you re-ceived through your vigils and con-tin-u - al prayers the grace of heal-ing ma - la - dies. In - ter - cede for the sal - va - tion of our souls.

Cantor: Strong is the love of the Lord for us;
(on 1) he is faithful forever.

You lived in the de-sert, O ho-ly fa - ther, eat-ing bit - ter roots as your nourishment, O venerable Cy-ri - a - cus. Mor - ti - fy - ing your senses, you pruned your soul of all the roots of carnal pleasures, O bles - sed one. Thus, with heav - enly joy you has-tened to the end of a life which you had lived like an an - gel.

 In - ter-cede for the sal - va - tion of our souls.

Cantor: (Tone 2) Glory...now and ever...
