TWENTIETH SUNDAY AFTER PENTECOST

The holy apostle and evangelist Luke who, as it is told, was born of a pagan family in Antioch and was a doctor by profession. He was converted to the faith and became a most-beloved companion of blessed Paul the Apostle. A scribe with the gentleness of Christ, he diligently arranged all the things which Jesus did and taught in the book of his Gospel. Likewise, in his Acts of the Apostles, he told the beginnings of the life of the Church up to the time of the first visit of Paul to Rome.

Hymn

tune: Anhel Božij / When the angel came

1. Out the farm-er went— so the tale is spent— Sow-ing seed up - on the ground.
2. Some in shal-low soil sprout-ed from his toil; Lack-ing mois-ture, it soon died.
3. Some of this new seed found rich soil in - deed And pro-duced a hun-dred - fold!

Some fell on the path, where it could not last; Grabbed by birds or trod-den down.
Some grew in the weed, stran-gling it in - deed, Though to live it brave-ly tried.
When we hear the Word, and live what we've heard We bear fruit, as Christ has told!

Je - sus told these tales, it's plain, God's own King - dom to ex - plain.

Come and lend an ear! Think of what you hear! Learn the se-crets of God's reign!
