

Vesper Propers, September 20, 2020
Sunday after the Exaltation of the Holy Cross

Postfestive day of the Exaltation of the Cross

The holy martyr Eustace and his companions. Eustace was a Roman military leader in the time of the emperors Titus and Trajan. He was a righteous and merciful pagan. One day while hunting, he found a stag. In the stag's antlers, a cross appeared, and Eustace heard a voice telling him to find a Christian priest and be baptized. He and his whole family were baptized, and then left Rome for Egypt. Eustace was called back into service by Trajan during the barbarian invasions. After defeating the enemy, Eustace was arrested by the new emperor Hadrian for being a Christian. He was killed with his entire family. (118)

Supplement for The Order of Vespers for Sundays after Pentecost, 2005

Lamplighting Psalms in the Tone of the Week (Tone 7, p. 92), stichera 10-8.

Cantor: (Tone 4) Let your ears be attentive (on 7) to the voice of my pleading.

Stichera of the Postfeast - Tone 4 podoben: Dal jesi znamenie

⑦

O Christ, your precious Cross shining as bright-ly as the sun is made secure on the glo-ri-ous place of the skulls. It is raised up on your most holy moun-tain, O Sav - ior. Since You are the Lov - er of us all, You have raised up our nature in-to heav - en through your Cross, O all - pow - er - ful One.

Cantor: If you, O Lord, should mark our guilt, Lord, who would survive?
(on 6) But with you is found forgiveness: for this we revere you.

O in-com-pre-hen-si-ble One, to-day the heavens have pro-claimed your glo-ry to all.

Hav-ing bright-ly illu-mined the im-age of the Cross by your un-approach-a-ble splen-dor, You ex-posed the insanity and cruel standards of the en-e-mies of God.

For this rea-son, we glo-ri-fy You, O all-pow-er-ful Je-sus,

Sav-ior of our souls.

Cantor: My soul is waiting for the Lord. I count on his word.
(on 5) My soul is longing for the Lord more than watchman for daybreak.

By the spread-ing out of his hands, Moses con-quired Am-a-lek. In this he pre-fig-ured the Cross. We, who now bow down to the Cross, crush the attacks and craftiness of the en - e - my. We are strength - ened by Christ the Con - quer - or who is raised up - on it in the flesh.

He has put the ser - pent to death and has saved all peo - ple.

Cantor: Let the watchman count on daybreak, and Israel on the Lord.

(on 4)

O Eus - tace, your call from on high was not from a hu - man source. Christ, the

Lov - er of us all, ap - peared to you and drew you into the nets of faith,

O bless - ed one. He cleansed you of sin by baptism and by the tests of life.

As the Mas - ter, He spread out suf - fer - ings for you and showed you to be a glo - ri - ous con - quer - or.

Cantor: Because with the Lord there is mercy and fullness of redemption, (on 3) Israel indeed he will redeem from all its iniquity. Repeat: "O Eustace, your call..."

Cantor: Praise the Lord all you nations; Psalm 116
(on 2) acclaim him all you peoples.

②

Re-joic-ing in youth, you were trained in the vir - tues. De - prived of your wife and chil - dren, you cou - ra - geously endured captivity and suffered dis-grace - ful slav - er - y. You re - cov - ered magnificent-ly, O mem - 'ra - ble one, and your cour-age in bat - tle made you hon-or - a - ble.

Cantor: Strong is the love of the Lord for us;
(on 1) he is faithful forever.

①

O wor-thy Eus - tace, you were like an aromatic heavenly in-cense in the fire, a pleas-ing burnt-offering, and accept-a - ble sac - ri - fice, a liv-ing and most ex-cel-lent gift. For this rea - son, you have been accepted as a resident of heav - en, to - geth-er with your fam - i - ly and hosts of saints.

Cantor: (Tone 2) Glory...

Doxastikon of the holy martyr Eustace - Tone 2 samohlasen

By his life, Eustace was likened to a dia - mond. Through his suffer-ings and strug - gles, he be-came an Im-age of vir-tues and a pil-lar of pa-tience for us.

Hav-ing lost his wife and children, he truly was an-oth - er Job. He was faith-ful in life and unshaka-ble in temp-ta-tions. He car - ried the trophy of victo-ry in his suf-fer-ings. We pray that Christ grant enlightenment and puri-fi - ca - tion to our souls through him.

Cantor: (Tone 7) Now and ever...

Dogmatikon in the Tone of the Week (Tone 7, page 98)

Aposticha

Aposticha in the Tone of the Week (Tone 7, page 99), concluding with:

Cantor: (Tone 6) Glory...

Aposticha doxastikon of the holy martyr Eustace - Tone 6 samohlasen

How are we to worthily praise you whose life was more pre-cious than dia-monds?

You went beyond nature, leaving your wife, children, and pos - ses - sions be - hind.

You cried out in the words of Job: Bless - ed is He.

The Lord gave; the Lord takes a - way; and as the Lord wills, so shall it be. You loved God and ardently yearned for Him.

He granted your wishes in addition to your suf - fer - ings.

Be-cause of the various tortures, you and your fam - i - ly had bless-ed deaths.

O pa-tient Eus - tace, you and your devout ones re - ceived these re-wards.

En-treat Christ that we be de-liv - ered from our trans-gres - sions.

Cantor: Now and ever...

Aposticha doxastikon of the postfeast - Tone 6 samohlasen

O Cross of Christ, hope of Chris-tians, guide of all those who have gone a - stray, ha - ven of the storm-tossed and vic - to - ry in war - fare, firm foun - da - tion of the In-hab - it - ed earth, heal - er of the sick and res - ur - rec - tion of the dead, have mer - cy on us.

Troparia

Troparion of the Resurrection in the Tone of the Week (Tone 7, page 101). Then:

Cantor: (Tone 1) Glory... now and ever...

Troparion of the Exaltation of the Cross - Tone 1

Save your peo-ple, O Lord, and bless your in-her-i-tance. Grant vic-to-ry to your Church o-ver e-vil, and pro-tect your peo-ple by your cross.